SOUTHERN LIFE INSURANCE CO

Editorial From The Courier Journal
August Eighth, Nineteen Hundred And Nine.

From time to time there comes along a substantial testimonial of the South's financial progress. Development is a word constantly increasing in usage in our vocabulary. Opportunities that were once permitted to come and go unheeded are now caught and nailed down. Languid indifference more frequently than formerly gets a jolt from aggressiveness and the Southern business world profits as a result of the encounter.

A striking illustration of this latter day tendency to curb suspicion of enterprise and welcome Southern progress came recently with the announcement that plans are under way for the organization of a great life insurance company for the South, with headquarters in Kentucky. It is significant that the proposition has been received by the many as seriously as it was launched by the few sincerely. Twenty, ten, or even five years ago the announcement would have met with scant welcome. To-day it seems to have been received with a cordiality not unmixed with enthusiasm. Men recognize in it an agency of benefit for both Kentucky and the South and consequently a personal friend.

The moment the swaddling clothes were ripped off the Citizens National Life Insurance Company—an organization which is to have $5,000,000 of capital stock and $5,000,000 of surplus—people began to lift up their heads and take notice. Since then, it is declared, letters and telegrams have poured in on the promoters from every section of the South—actually wishing Godspeed to the enterprise. That the interest has not been limited to merely verbose sentiment, is demonstrated by the substantial financial support proffered with every arrival of the mail.

The man who is even more than a casual student of current events is impressed when introduced to the magnitude of the life insurance business in the United States. Out of apparently bewildering volumes of statistics he can readily gain, however, a conception, dazzling in impressiveness and particularly useful in an understandable contemplation of the real meaning of the territory south of the Mason and Dixon line of the establishment therein of the proposed Citizens National Life.

It is well to bear in mind that the East in particular has until most recent years enjoyed what may almost be described as a monopoly of the life insurance business. While Easterners have drawn with tremendous profit to themselves the money from Southern policy holders, they must also be credited with possessing increasing faith in life insurance.

In 1873 the total amount in policies reported to the New York Insurance Department was $2,086,027, 178. This total had increased at the end of 1908 to $10,623,733,785. New York City's life insurance assets aggregated in 1908 1,725,000,000. Hartford, Conn., has a population of 80,000. It had life insurance assets in 1908 of $200,000,000. Montpelier, Vt., has a population of 10,000, and in 1908 had life insurance assets of $44,000,000, or $6,428 per capita. These figures, however, do not convey their full significance until contrasted with Louisville's aggregate life insurance assets in 1909 of about $2,000,000 with a population 250,000.

There is no need to the evidence that life insurance business is profitable for a community. We are wont to turn eternally to New York when we study things financial. One prominent New York company twenty years ago had a little over $6,000,000 of assets. Its statement showed assets in 1908 $236,000,000, and the assets have probably increased to about a quarter of a billion of dollars today. Four prominent metropolitan life insurance companies in 1908 had a total income of $337,837,188. Allowing three hundred business days for the year, this means that these four companies alone pumped through the arteries of New York City's financial and business system last year upward of $1,126,000 every day. Indianapolis, which is a little over 100 miles from Louisville, has something like twenty life insurance companies, and the business in Indiana has been growing very fast.

The amount paid for life insurance premiums in Kentucky last year was $7,285,822, and the South is now paying out for life insurance about sixty millions of dollars annually.

Kentucky should have a big life insurance company. It is the first southern state to offer to policyholders the guarantee of a compulsory reserve deposit law. The statute now in effect was enacted March 24, 1906. It provided that every domestic life insurance company must deposit with the State Treasurer for the security and benefit of all its policyholders, an amount equal to or greater than the ascertained net cash value of all such company's policies in force. It is worthy of note that the men who fought for this law were the managers of the Citizens Life Insurance Company and the same gentlemen who are now promoting the Citizens National Life.

The plan in brief of the Citizens National Life Insurance Company is first to merge into it the Citizens Life Insurance Company. As already indicated, the same men who during the past five years made life insurance history through the exceptional development of the latter company are the guiding spirits of the new organization. The further purpose of the new company is to take over other companies of the South and elsewhere which may decide to discontinue business or may find it more profitable to consolidate with a company of great strength. There seems to be nothing impracticable about the plan, nor does it appear where anything but advantage can come to the policyholders and stockholders of the Citizens Life or any other companies that may be merged into the new company. No doubt the stockholders will see to it that a thoroughly equitable arrangement is carried out for the exchange of holdings in any existing company for stock in the new corporation. It is pointed out to policyholders of the Citizens Life in particular—and the same condition must apply to the policyholders of any other company merged into the big company—that the consolidation will mean to them insurance in one of the strongest companies in the country, and for that matter, in the world.

There are purchasers of life insurance who do not care particularly for a big company. Some on the other hand will insure in no other kind, but no one objects especially to a big company when seeking life insurance protection. Thus the new company will not only secure business from those who are not content to buy insurance from a small company, but to those who want to purchase very large or even small policies and demand financial strength, it will stand the severest test. But there is a deeper interest and significance to the general public in the organization of a ten million dollar insurance company in the South and an added local interest when it is considered that Kentucky will be the home office of the new company. Mr. W. H. Gregory, president of the Citizens Life and one of the guiding geniuses in the advancement of the new company, has in a recent letter to the policyholders of his own company called particular attention to what might be styled the Southern phase of the situation. The points cannot be well stated more clearly, and we quote from his letter:

"The tremendous power gained by Southern people in the organization of this company is the check it will put on the flow of millions of dollars annually in life insurance premiums from the South to the North and East. I believe confidently that this will be one of the greatest things ever done financially for the South."

"The South is coming to the front. It is making more progress than any other section of the country. Southern people have been awakened to the great power they have, once they band together. Take other lines of business—the cotton mills, for instance. The South once sent its cotton to New England. There it was manufactured and sent back and sold at a goodly profit. The South paid the freight to New England on the raw material, paid the freight back on the finished product and paid the manufacturer in New England a profit on the goods handled and capital invested, to say nothing of the millions and millions of dollars left there to pay Northern labor. But it is changing the order of things. The capital of twenty-one millions once invested in cotton mills in the South has in recent years increased to three hundred millions. The people of the South at one time did not appreciate just what the cotton crop amounted to, and I dare say some do not yet appreciate just what it means. Some probably do not know that every panic this country has experienced in years has been checked and stopped by the cotton crop. The people who raise cotton are a power. And they are beginning to realize it. And, likewise, Southern people are beginning to realize their power in the insurance world."

"The thing we wish to accomplish now is to have a company strong enough to take care of the immense volume of business in the South. You can appreciate just what that means. At the time the Citizens Life was organized, the Southern life insurance companies had practically no business on their books. You may be surprised, therefore, when I tell you that the Southern companies to day are carrying nearly one third of a billion of dollars of life insurance. The amount is stupendous, yet it is only about 3 percent of the total amount of insurance carried in the United States."

"The banks of the North and East have been built up largely by life insurance money, with the South all these years paying the freight, as it were, and the banks themselves have in turn been a powerful factor in the commercial development of the North and East. Yet the South pays out enough money each year in premiums for life insurance to build up some of the strongest banks in the world in the South."

The business associates and the friends of Mr. Gregory, Mr. Helm Bruce, Mr. Charles D. Pearce and the other gentlemen who are striving industriously for the success of this great enterprise have confidence in their ability to carry it out. Kentucky will apparently have every good reason to pride herself on being able to furnish the home for the company. But greatest good will come to the largest number by people of the South being able to lay proud claim to one more great and powerful institution, destined to go through generations to come as a monument erected to Southland development and enterprise.

County Court Monday.

While there was one of the largest crowds in town Monday for many months, there was but little business before the court.

In the case of Dennie and others, petitioners for the opening of a new public road into Tolu, at the instigation of the petitioners the case was dismissed. Had not the case been dismissed, the fight would have been an interesting one, as opinion was evenly divided in a three-cornered battle front, with three sets of counsel in the field.

Commissioner Rochester sold all the land advertised at a good price, and on the streets a number of mules and horses were sold at top prices.

Notice To Tobacco Growers

There will be a Mass Meeting of the Tobacco Growers at Marion, Ky., on Saturday, August 21. All growers of and interested in better prices for Tobacco are requested to be present on that day. We expect to have some prominent speakers who will discuss the tobacco situation in a fair and impartial way.

Come out and let us reason together for our own mutual benefit. Don't forget the time and place.

Done by order of the County Committee of the Stemming District Association. W. B. RANKIN, Chairman.

OUR SOLDIER BOYS.

Captain Carl Henderson boarded the Southbound train Monday morning with Co. K., numbering 57 men, for Earlinton to take part in the rifle range meet of the Third Kentucky Infantry. In their march to the depot the boys, as they passed the Record-Press office, put up a good showing and looked as if they could stand camp life on "hard tack" as well as any of them. Capt. Henderson deserves much credit for his efforts to prepare his company for the good showing they put up.

They are a nice set of boys and we believe they will make us proud of them. The Henderson Journal has this to say of the Regiment meet:

Earlington, Ky., Aug. 9.—Col. J. J. Henry and staff, of the Third Kentucky Infantry, are in camp here with Lieut. Col. Moffatt and Lieut. Col. Woodyard, of Frankfort, both on the staff of the Adjutant General, in advance of the arrival of the regiment Monday, when the annual encampment and rifle practice on the new government range begins. Company G, of Earlinton, rested in camp last night after a strenuous day's work moving and placing the equipment, erecting the officers' tents, and doing everything to put the camp in the best shape for reception of the other companies Monday.

The camp is ideally on an elevated field in the southern edge of the city, but a short march from the range. Water supply and electric lights have already been piped and wired into the camp, and everything possible will be done for the comfort and convenience of the soldiers. This is the first encampment held in Kentucky on a rifle range built by the National Government, and this is the only such rifle range yet built in the state.

Baptist Association

Ohio River Association of Baptists will hold its Annual meeting with Walnut Grove Church, to begin next week, August 18th, to continue three days.

A Pleasant Affair.

A very pleasant affair was enjoyed by many friends on August 4th, at the home of Mrs. Lizzie Gilbert, widow of the late Hiram Gilbert, in the Mattoon neighborhood. The occasion was the 79th birthday and the affair was a big dinner and meeting of friends come together to celebrate the day in a way all could enjoy. She knew nothing of this until the people began to arrive with baskets, as it was all planned as a surprise by J. S. Birch, a young man who Mrs. Gilbert had raised.

Among those present was the only surviving sister of Mrs. Gilbert, Mrs. Vaughn, who is 77 years old. Her brother, Dick Morris, who is in Ark. is 72 years old. Others present were: Mote Duvall and family, Joe Dick Vaughn and family, A. L. Brown and family, Chas. Vanhooser and family, Wm. Duvall and family, J. T. Woody and family, Thos. Enochs and family, John Duvall and family, Elbert Manley and family, Mesdames A. Woody, Katherine Hughes, A. R. Hughes and family, Duke Seemaker and her brother, Fred Howerton, A. L. Lucas, Miss Zilpah Hughes and Misses Hughes and Witherspoon, from Kansas. All the visitors came with well filled baskets and a splendid dinner was the consequence, interspersed with lemonade, ice cream and cake, after which all were entertained with music by the Duvall and Marion string band. The whole day was spent in celebrating in this way and when all left late in the evening, it was with wishes that they would be able to help Mrs. Gilbert celebrate many more such birth days. One who was present.

NEW RAILROAD

To Come From Cave-In-Rock by The Way Of Crittenden Springs to Marion.

Lige Curry, who is lumbering below Golconda tells his brother-in-law, Lee Yeakey a day or two ago that actual work was in progress on the new railroad building from Golconda up the river to Elizabethtown and that from inside sources he had also learned that this road was heading for Cave-In-Rock where, in due time the system promulgating the scheme expect to bridge the Ohio river and run out to Marion, Ky., via the famed Crittenden Springs, as now a vast summer resort with a large hotel, crowded at this very time with visitors, mostly from Evansville and Louisville—yet this new line is designed to open this great watering place more advantageously to St. Louis and Chicago society people. It is 7 miles due south of Cave-In-Rock. This was good news to Mr. Yeakey who owns the Cave-In-Rock near where the north piers of the contemplated bridge will rest on soiled limestone. Mr. Curry also says the railroad force now above Golconda are doing their work effectively for an immediate and solid road-bed, making it one hundred feet wide and digging and tearing all trees out by the roots so there would be no depression in the later and thus no fills to make in consequence. NEW RAILROAD

To Come From Cave-In-Rock by The Way Of Crittenden Springs to Marion.

Lige Curry, who is lumbering below Golconda tells his brother-in-law, Lee Yeakey a day or two ago that actual work was in progress on the new railroad building from Golconda up the river to Elizabethtown and that from inside sources he had also learned that this road was heading for Cave-In-Rock where, in due time the system promulgating the scheme expect to bridge the Ohio river and run out to Marion, Ky., via the famed Crittenden Springs, as now a vast summer resort with a large hotel, crowded at this very time with visitors, mostly from Evansville and Louisville—yet this new line is designed to open this great watering place more advantageously to St. Louis and Chicago society people. It is 7 miles due south of Cave-In-Rock. This was good news to Mr. Yeakey who owns the Cave-In-Rock near where the north pier of the contemplated bridge will rest on solid limestone. Mr. Curry also says the railroad force now above Golconda are doing their work effectively for an immediate and solid road-bed, making it one hundred feet wide and digging and tearing all trees out by the roots so there would be no depression in the later and thus no fills to make in consequence. Announcements.

We are authorized to announce JOHN L. GRAYOT as a candidate for Commonwealth Attorney of the Fourth Judicial District of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce JUDGE J. F. GORDON as a candidate for re-election to the office of Circuit Judge of the Fourth Judicial District of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

The Union County Nominee For Sheriff.

Record-Press:—Did you ever stand on the opposite side of a room and see a party on a ladder hanging pictures on the other room decorations? If you ever did so, you will readily concede that you were in a better position to say when such decorations were level and symmetrical than was the party on the ladder doing the work. We are the party across the room, the Union county editors and voters are the workmen on the ladder.

Will you let us say a few unpersonal things to you? And first, let us state that we have nothing but a friendly feeling for all concerned and do not assume to pass upon the guilt or innocence of any one, and further let us say, we fully appreciate the unwritten laws of party fealty and primary pledges, and speak in the open with full knowledge of the situation.

Firstly, as the parson would say, no political party can, for its own well-being, offered to put an unclean man into a prominent position (and when I say "unclean," I mean in reputation and have no intention of judging any man's real character.) To do so is but to drive from your standard those who count purity of life above party preference.

In the next place, no party has the moral right to compel its supporters to insult their wives and daughters and stand condemned in the eyes of decency in order to be loyal to party premises. And again, if a candidate so far forgets the moral dignity of his position as to, by drunkenness, gross profanity, adultery, fornication, theft, lying, or any other public sin against good morals, render his reputation odious to the general public, then he and not the public should suffer for it, and no party has the moral right to use the party lash to drive clean men to foist such a candidate into office and onto the people. If your candidate is innocent of the charges that shame public taste and dishonor the sacred relations of the family, let him, like an honest man, retire to private life and by a future rectitude of living establish his innocence—as is said of certain characters in the christians law book, "Let them tarry at Jerico until their beards be grown."

Now anent the nomination question and the sheriff's race, permit a few feeble remarks.

Last November, the votes of Union county held a primary election and in that election gave the nomination for sheriff to a man whom we will call Mr. C. No. 1—a man who has a moral standing—indeed a respected place in a christian church. Soon after this was done this candidate went to the county seat on some business and gave his certificate of nomination to a Mr. C. No. 2, (either gave it away, or suffered it taken from him, the case is the same.) This Mr. C. No. 2, stands before the public gaze (whether innocent or guilty I do not pretend to say) as an adulterer, a confessed fornicator, a man of low and offensive habits or acts, and the question now is, must those democrats who voted in the primary for reputable Mr. C. No. 1,—and those who voted against also, in order to maintain their party fealty and escape the odious of being called "bolters," vote for disreputable Mr. C. No. 2? It does not take an astute mind nor a logical thinker to see that the personately voted for last fall for sheriff candidate is not the same you are now being lashed into voting for, for that important office.

Mr. A. married a woman supposed by all to be a virtuous young lady. After the marriage it became a matter of universal report that she was a grass-widow, characterless and a shrew, does any one say that A's marriage vows are binding? Miss B married a man who is reputed to be a clean, honorable, industrious gentleman, after marriage he is conceded by the public to be a drunken, gambling, liar and a loathsomely diseased and libertine, has she broken her vows when she goes back to her father and refuses further association with this pretender? The school directors hire to teach their children a woman who brings certificates of good character and qualifications, before the school opens she by her actions shows herself to them as unqualified in mind and impure in life, is their contract binding? The voters of a county nominate for sheriff a man whose profession stamps him as a man, a gentleman, a Christian later it develops, as they think, that he is neither a Christian, a gentleman nor decent, are those voters bound? These cases are similar.

Afraid of Ghosts

Many people are afraid of ghosts. Few people are afraid of germs. Yet the ghost is a fancy and the germ is a fact. If the germ could be magnified to a size equal to its terrors it would appear more terrible than any fire-breathing dragon. Germs can't be avoided. They are in the air we breathe, the water we drink.

The germ can only prosper when the condition of the system gives it free scope to establish itself and develop. When there is a deficiency of vital force, languor, restlessness, a yellow cheek, a hollow eye, when the appetite is poor and the sleep is broken, it is time to guard against the germ. You can fortify the body against all germs by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It increases the vital power, cleanses the system of clogging impurities, enriches the blood, puts the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition in working condition, so that the germ finds no weak or tainted spot in which to breed. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whisky or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients printed on its outside wrapper. It is not a secret nostrum but a medicine of known composition and with a record of 40 years of cures. Accept no substitute—there is nothing "just as good." Ask your neighbors.

Better Not Get Dyspepsia

If you can help it. Kodol prevents Dyspepsia, by effectually helping Nature to Relieve Indigestion. But don't trifle with Indigestion.

A great many people who have trifled with indigestion, have been sorry for it—when nervous or chronic dyspepsia resulted, and they have not been able to cure it.

Use Kodol and prevent having Dyspepsia.

Everyone is subject to indigestion. Stomach derangement follows stomach abuse, just as naturally and just as surely as a sound and healthy stomach results upon the taking of Kodol.

When you experience sourness of stomach, belching of gas and nauseating fluid, bloated sensation, gnawing pain in the pit of the stomach, heart burn (so-called), diarrhoea, headaches, dullness or chronic tired feeling—you need Kodol. And then the quicker you take Kodol—the better. Eat what you want, let Kodol digest it.

Ordinary pepsin "dyspepsia tablets," physica, etc., are not likely to be of much benefit to you, in digestive ailments. Pepsin is only a partial digester—and physica are not digesters at all.

Kodol is a perfect digester. If you could see Kodol digesting every particle of food, of all kinds, in the glass test-tubes in our laboratories, you would know this just as well as we do.

Nature and Kodol will always cure a sick stomach—but in order to be cured, the stomach must rest. That is what Kodol does—rests the stomach, while the stomach gets well. Just as simple as A, B, C.

The large bottle contains 24 times as much as the fifty cent bottle.

Liver Trouble Remedy Free

Any intelligent person can be his own doctor in the ordinary case of liver trouble, for the symptoms cannot be mistaken. If the white of the eye becomes yellowish, if the skin becomes sallow, if pimples and blotches appear, if the bowels do not move, if you have sick headache, if you are bilious, you may be sure that your liver is torpid or inactive.

The quickest and surest remedy yet found for the cure of liver trouble or any of its symptoms is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the great herb laxative compound. This wonderful remedy is not only a laxative, but a tonic as well. It will start the flow of gastric juice, thereby soon enabling the liver to do its work naturally. A bottle of this great liver remedy can be bought of any druggist for 50 cents or $1, and in many cases a single bottle has cured a chronic case.

For example, John W. Lee, 819 S. Pennsylvania ave., Indianapolis, Ind., had a stubborn and very long-standing case of liver trouble, with pimples, blotches, jaundice, etc., and it cured him. Mrs. B. Finchum, Jackson, Ky., says the same of it. Thousands of families keep it in the house against just such an emergency, as you can never tell when some member of the family will need a good laxative.

In order to have you or any other sufferer from the liver make a test of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin without personal expense, Dr. Caldwell will send you a free test bottle if you will send your name and address. The sample will show you how pleasant it is to take, how gently it works. It will start you on the cure of your trouble and convince you that you have found a cure. That is the object of the sample, and the doctor urges you to send for it today.

If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service. The address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 500 Caldwell bldg., Monticello, Ill.

Women

Women who suffer from female ailments, frequently neglect their trouble, till a general breakdown follows. Don't wait till your case is as bad as that—take Cardui in time. It is a safe, reliable medicine for all women.

Take CARDUI

Mrs. Anna Kane, of Pierce, Fla., tried Cardui and afterwards wrote: "I was a sufferer from all sorts of female trouble, had pain in my side, drawing pains in my legs, could not sleep, had shortness of breath. I suffered for years, until my husband insisted on my trying Cardui. The first bottle gave me relief and now I am almost well." Try Cardui. It will help you.

MAJESTIC DEMONSTRATION

WEEK BEGINNING AUGUST 9TH, 1909

And closing

SATURDAY, AUGUST 14TH, 1909

FREE

MAJESTIC RANGE

THE RANGE WITH A REPUTATION
MADE IN ALL SIZES AND STYLES.

SOUVENIR FREE

Set of Majestic Ware

If you call at our store during our Majestic Demonstration Week and allow us to show you the many advantages and superior qualities of the Great and Majestic Range, and will purchase one at the regular price, we will give FREE the beautiful and useful Souvenir Set of Ware illustrated in this advertisement. This ware is made to match the quality of the Majestic Ranges, and we know all ladies will see the beauty and utility of this Set, especially the first three pieces, which are entirely new and cannot be had alone by purchase, except at a very high price. The prices of Majestic Ranges are the same, but we give the set FREE with each Majestic Range BOUGHT DURING DEMONSTRATION WEEK ONLY.

REASONS WHY THE GREAT MAJESTIC YOU SHOULD BUY

- 1st. It has the reputation of being the best Range money can buy.
- 2nd. It not only has the reputation, but is the best range made, and we will prove this to you if you will let us.
- 3rd. It is constructed of Malleable iron, material you can't beat, and of Charcoal Iron--material that resists rust 300 per cent. greater than steel-, is riveted together air-tight No heat escapes or cold air enters range thus uses very little fuel to do perfect work.
- 4th. The reservoir alone is worth the price of the range over any other reservoir made. It boils 15 gallons of water; is heated like a tea-kettle, with pocket against left-hand lining, and is movable and sets on a frame, hence cannot wear out. When water gets too hot it can be moved away from fire.

Majestic Ranges use less fuel; heat more water--and heat it hotter; costs practically nothing for repairs; last three times as long; bake better; easier to keep clean and gives better satisfaction than any other range on the market. If you knew positively that the above statements were true, wouldn't you buy a Majestic at once? Come In During Demonstration week and we will prove it to you:

Jottings By The Way.

Green county is one of the oldest counties in Kentucky. It was the thirteenth county and was formed in 1792. It was originally a very large county, but a number of counties have been sliced off it until it is left small in area. The following counties have been cut off from Green: Adair, Cumberland, Taylor, Russell, and parts of Barren, Morgan, Meigs, Clinton, Hart and Wayne.

One of the early forts of the State was built right where the court house at Greensburg now stands. I passed by the site of another early fort, called "Skin-House Fort." It was so called because the Indians had a house made of the skin of animals. It was situated on a high knoll that commanded the valleys on every side. The court house at Greensburg is an old-fashioned stone house and was built in 1799. It occupies one edge of the public square. There are quite a number of those antique stone houses in Greensburg. The majority of these business houses in Greensburg are roofed like the old-fashioned dwelling houses. They have nice churches in Greensburg. The Presbyterians have a beautiful stone church. I had the privilege of preaching in it Friday night to quite a good audience.

The meeting at Ebenezer was a great revival. Thirty-six professed religion and fifteen joined the church with others to join yet. Quite a number of parents were converted and nearly all the converts were adults.

I go to Westmoreland, Tenn., and preach at Liberty church next Sunday and then go to Lebanon to attend the Bible Conference.

Health is good except bad colds occasioned by attending the meeting just closed at the Grove.

Brother Charlie Clark, of Salem, assisted the pastor, Rev. J. T. Davis in our meeting which lasted about twelve days. There were several conversions and some church members were renewed. Brother Clark at the close of the meeting expressed himself as being pleased with his stay among our good people and also praised the congregation for the good order.
